SAILING VESSELS.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

Unicorn, with Mr. D. E. Sassoon in the saddle, after being left at the post in the Shanghai Griffin of 1890, won by his stable companion Hero, come through his field like greased lightning inside the distance and finish within a very few lengths of the flying skewball, and actually in faster time than the record.

Freight and Reciprocity were sent a mile and a half in company at a steady pace, the chronograph marking 38, 1.14, 1.49, 2.26, 3.03, and 3.34, and the third in the Hongkong Derby of two years ago showed improving form. No success would be more generally popular than a win in one of the big races for Mr. Taylor, young "sport" who, since his arrival here, has worked very hard and exhibited exceptional enterprise in endeavouring to encourage racing in Hongkong. That Majesty has retained his brilliant speed, if he has gone off his "feed," was pretty conclusively shown when the handsome dun rattled over the three-quarters course in 33, 66, and 1.37, but I must confess that, fine mover as he undoubtedly is, Majesty's lucked-up appearance gives me the impression that he has been overdone and is only too likely to crack up in a severe finish. Of course this is only surmise on my part, as I have never seen the pony in racing trim at Shanghai, and it may be that he is one of the sort who show to best advantage when drawn first.

Pepper and Salt, a griffin that is evidently being specially "readied up" for the Canton Cup, was sent over the distance for that event in company with Camel, a stable companion that is reputed to have more than an outside chance for the Derby, and the pair galloped in very good form and in fairly creditable time, namely: 35, 69, 1.44, and 2.20. And that ended the performance for the morning.

This morning there was a decided improvement in the number of spectators, but the gallops were not particularly exciting and in many instances were rather disappointing. Guardsman was the first pony to make a move, and after a spell of ordinary exercise he progressed not giving entire satisfaction to the critics. "Boots" steered Home Guard in a steady mile and a half spin, the old racer going freely and pulling up all right. The times were—38, 1.15, 1.59, 2.25, 3.01, and 3.34. Black Pearl, "Punch" riding, took matters in pretty easy fashion, but wound up with a smart half-mile spin, the quarters occupying 32 and 31 seconds respectively. It is quite on the cards that Mr. Heinrich's handsome griffin may develop into a racing gem of the first water.

Merry Thought, with a ma'oo up, went in fine form for a mile exercise gallop in 38, 1.13, 1.49 and 2.21, and appears to be coming to hand very nicely indeed. This is an exceptionally speedy pony, and it should not be forgotten that this year's Hongkong Races, in addition to running second to Hero in the Ashby Cup, to Lightening in the Navy Cup, and to Mighty in the Ladies Purse, he won the Lusitano Cup from Bold Heart, (in the last time of 2.41) and the Flyaway Stakes from Enthusiast and Golden Cloud. The Derick-Hunter "subs" Hoax and Steadfast, were spun out almost at high pressure over the Valley Stakes distance, making 33, 66, and 1.42. The claims of Mr. Buxey's bay griffin Islander to consideration for the Wong-neng-chong Stakes, in which race he is an almost certain starter, were practically demonstrated when, with Mr. Master in the saddle, he pulled the half mile in 32 and 62, and Mr. Master looks considerably over 100, qib, which is the weight Islander will have to carry. On this form, Islander looks a probable winner of the opening event of the meeting, a race, by the way, which "my friend" Buxey has never yet succeeded in winning.

Stonehenge, owner up, was sent a mile in 34, 69, 1.46, and 2.21, the shapely little bay going very freely all the way, and he looks like developing into one of the best of the "subs." Bovril, going alone for a mile and a quarter, made the following times—36, 1.13, 1.47, 2.23, and 3.58, and pulled up under a mile and a quarter, and the two Derby griffin Liberty were "powered" three quarters of a mile in 37, 1.10, and 1.43, the latter showing much the better form. Gallant Little Tom Tit was steered by his owner over the half-mile course (37 and 1.11), but I fear the German Cup winner of two years ago has been rather overdone during the off season, and even were it otherwise he would be out-classed in the open races.

Hell and Mervyn, Mr. Hart Buck riding the latter, did their three-quarters in 34, 69, and 1.43, and it strikes me that there is scarcely enough of the diminutive grey to give him much chance against some of his long-striding rivals. Mountaineer (Mafo) and Royalist (Mr. Master) ploughed along for a mile and a half in 36, 71, 1.45, 2.22, 2.58, and 3.35. Under the hand of the Mountaineer, with only 100 lb. net, would probably have rivalled the victories of Fun, Entertainer, and Ardent in the Derby, but 110 lb. means quite another thing, and highly tried as he is reported to have been in the North, I doubt his ability to give 5 lb. to a pony of the stamp and attested excellence of Black Pearl.

Tallemann was accompanied by Mr. Crick-shank's "sub" Switchback for a mile and a quarter, the old pony cantering alongside the griffin in 35, 68, 1.43, 2.22, and 3.58. Faugh-a-Ballagh, ridden by a soldier boy, galloped the Valley Stakes distance in 34, 1.10, and 1.48, and then Sueswind (Mr. Jones) up, went a mile and a quarter in 35, 71, 1.48, and 2.23. Asbury (Mr. May) and Oryx "powered" half a mile in 34 and 66. Viper, Mr. Hart Buck in the saddle, did a capital mile gallop and in very fast time—33, 68, 1.43, and 2.16, the chestnut moving in very taking style.

For six furlongs Touchlight (mafo) and the subscription pony Colonel (Mr. Master) "powered" at nearly full speed, the clock ticking the quarters—33, 67, and 1.41. The roan Parmesan, with Dr. Meadon in the saddle, covered the mile in 35, 1.10, 1.46, and 2.19, moving beautifully, but it is doubtful if last year's Valley Stakes winner could have gone much faster. If he had been asked the question, "Mr. Jones up, went a mile in 35, 70, 1.48, and 2.24, the little cream galloping in resolute fashion and he is evidently one of the improving sort. Doncraggan, looking as fit as the proverbial fiddle, was treated to a lot of slow work and then came down the straight at score, recording 30, 66 seconds for his quarter. The two ancient, Vaguet, and Freedom, the Derby representative of the "muckle boote"—by the bye, I am glad to see that the proper jade colour, "dark blue and silver," had been substituted this year for the "under-scarp" blue and silver of the past—lobbed along for a mile and a quarter in 36, 1.11, 1.47, 2.24, and 3.59, both finishing with a good deal left in them. Looking through the entries for the Poochoo Cup, I am at a loss to find anything that has much chance of beating last year's winner of that race.

AN OLD SPORTSMAN.

Hongkong, 9th February, 1893.

THE TANCHOW MINE.

We are glad to learn from Mr. Ho Amel that work at the Tanchow silver mine near Canton, is progressing steadily and with encouraging results. Mr. Saun, the Company's able and energetic manager at the mine, writes from Tanchow under yesterday's date:—

"The steam-launch Hing Po will take to Canton to-morrow 1,142 tons of silver, the result of smelting the slag and cupel bottoms accumulated during the two preceding months. "The ore of No. 3 shaft assaying 30 ounces to the ton, and that of No. 1 shaft, with metallic silver, assaying 185 ounces, are in course of lixiviation."

"The sulphides from two vats of common ore well be refined to-morrow. The works are now being pushed on to their utmost capacity."

WRECK OF THE AMERICAN SHIP "ROBERT L. BELKNAP."

A PORTION OF THE CREW ARRIVE AT SINGAPORE.

ONE BOAT MISSING.

A little astonishment was created here yesterday, says the Strait Times of the 31st ult., by the arrival of a ship's boat containing the Captain and third mate of the American ship, Robert L. Belknap, which was lost on the morning of the 16th instant on the north of Nantua Island. The boat was rigged up in a curious fashion, obviously for making a somewhat hazardous passage with as little difficulty as possible. From the gun-wale, there had been built up about two feet of canvas, and the head part was covered in entirely so as to ward off the water in going through a rough sea and a head sea especially. "We understand that this device was entirely the idea of the captain who is now in Singapore, and who this morning gave our reporter a few details concerning the disaster. The Robert L. Belknap was a wooden American ship built in 1884 at Rockport, Maine U.S.A. She was of 2,350 tons register and was a full-rigged ship carrying a crew of twenty-eight hands, all told. Her commander, Captain Horace Staples, was one of the principal owners, his share being nearly one-half and there was, so we are told, no policy of insurance covering the loss of the ship which, seeing that little or nothing was saved from the wreck, means a very considerable loss for the captain, leaving alone the crew who saved nothing. The Robert L. Belknap was loaded up with a general cargo of goods, and she left on Friday, 30th December, bound for New York. Everything went well, she having light and variable winds until the 15th January. It was the intention of the captain to make the north of Nantua Island; and, on the morning of the 15th, they were in Long, 103° 8' and Lat. 60° 4'. The ship was shaping a course S. by W. until 6 o'clock that day, running to make the island, but failing to do so at that time, the ship was hauled to W. S. W. so as to make perfectly sure of getting to the westward of it and they kept on this course until 1 o'clock the following morning. The land was then made to be bearing N. W. and the ship then hauled out to the S. E. and, just one hour later, she struck on a reef a good fifteen miles from land. The centre of Polo Lat was bearing N. W. by W. The lead was cast and five fathoms of water were shown; but the lead could not be hauled in again. The deep-sea lead was brought into service and after obtaining bottom could not be brought inboard, and both were lost. The ship had run bow on to a coral reef which, at the first shock, must have made a large hole in her hull. She rapidly began to fill, and seeing that matters were getting serious, the second mate was sent away in one of the boats to see if there was a favourable landing place. All the boats were then got out and provisioned as rapidly as possible with biscuits, tinned stuff, and of course a stock of fresh water. Within an hour almost after she had taken the ground, she was full of water and there was only just time to get the boats properly provisioned, and to get also some compasses and the chronometer. Everything else had to be left behind. There was no time to wait for the return of the second mate, and the other three boats set out for the shore. They met the boat with the second mate on their way, about two or three miles from the ship. The second mate reported that there was a native village in the neighbourhood, and a native was in the boat with the second mate. The other boats proceeded on-ward for the shore, and the second mate returned to the ship and he did not join the others till the following morning. They remained together, living as best as they could amongst the natives. The situation was rather hard for at least one member of the unfortunate party; for the chief mate had with him his wife, who was the only woman on the ship or among those who came from the ship. The day after the Robert L. Belknap struck the reef, she began to break up. The mainmast went over the side and, after that, the work of destruction was rapid, so that there was not even a possibility to save anything such. Consequently, being of course obstructed by the fact of the vessel being so far from the shore, and the shore being somewhat difficult for navigation. They kept together on the island and received fairly good treatment at the hands of the islanders, barring the propensity of the latter to disregard the right to personal property. This, however, was an inconvenience that could be put up with. On Saturday the 21st, the second officer expressing a desire to strike out for Singapore, was given a choice of boats belonging to the ship. There is also a whale in which the native headman and two or three others of the islanders offered to bring on the second mate. The officer, however, decided to take one of the ship's boats, and he left on the morning of the 21st in the whale boat taking with him the boatwain and three men. The other members of the crew left behind then commenced to make preparations for leaving the island. The chief mate and sixteen men, with the chief mate's wife, decided to accept the offer of the natives; while the captain and the third mate got to work to get the ship's long boat ready for sea. Mats were made from wood hewn on the island, and a rough sort of canvas was stretched along the gunwale two feet above, while the fore part was covered in altogether. After provisioning the boat, she left on Thursday, 26th January, and had a fairly good passage to Singapore, with the exception of two severe rain squalls, arriving at about 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the 30th. The second mate, who left in the whale boat, has not yet been heard of, but it is possible that he and his men may have been picked up by a passing ship. Much sympathy must be felt for the Captain, who has lost heavily by the wreck. He has nothing but what he stands upright in, and the crew are practically in the same condition. The Captain attributes the loss of the ship to the Admiralty chart not bearing any trace of the reef on which his ship struck. The sailors are being put up at the Sailor's Home. The Phaeta with the chief officer, his wife and the sixteen members of the crew, arrived safely at Singapore during the forenoon of the 31st, there being no mishap on the way. Much sympathy is expressed for the chief officer's wife, who has undergone great privations since the time the ship went on shore.

The Daily News in a leader says that it is now the duty of the British Government to support the Egyptian Government, who has a high character, above corruption. The Times says that the Khedive is openly credited with the intention to dismiss the English officials, and that there are also rumours to the effect that he is endeavoring to achieve the evacuation of the country by Great Britain; but that, if the Times is unable to believe the Khedive capable of such folly, which could not but result in tightening the British hold on the Egyptian Government.
